DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14 and 20, drawn to a connector device, classified in class 604, subclass 403.
 - II. Claims 15-19, drawn to a method for connecting tubing lines, classified in class 604, subclass 403.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions in Group I and Group II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process.

(MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process fails to claim the particulars of the claimed apparatus, indicating that the process may be performed using a different apparatus.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. During a telephone conversation with Robert Blaha on 5 February 2004, a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-14 and 20. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 15-19 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-10, 12-14, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 4,266,106 to Shoor. Shoor discloses a connector with an slotted open end parallel with the connector between ribs 49 (see FIG 3), a housing 48, an aperture 43 for receiving a second tubing, a tapered surface, circular, plate-like ribs or tabs 49 that restrict movement and are smaller than the width of the connector 11 that will be inserted therein.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 4,266,106 to Shoor in view of US 5,437,648 to Graves et al. Shoor discloses the apparatus as claimed with the exception of the size of the slot being smaller than the diameter of the tube therein. Graves discloses a connector with lockable safety assembly that includes latch, 62. The safety assembly includes two open ends for connecting to tubing assemblies and a latch with a slot 72 that receives tubing 36 with a collar 46. The width of the slot 72 is smaller than the diameter of the collar, thereby locking the tubing into place. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to create a slot of an appropriate diameter to retain the tubing therein in order to prevent the connected sections from becoming accidentally disengaged, as taught by Graves.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure:

- a. US 4,433,973 Kurtz et al
- i. Tube connector assembly with slots
